Social Studies Unit Planning Afternoon

December 6, 2018

Masha Laney, Sally Quong, Ashley Kazery
To create a world-class educational system that gives students the knowledge and skills to be successful in college and the workforce, and to flourish as parents and citizens

MISSION

To provide leadership through the development of policy and accountability systems so that all students are prepared to compete in the global community
1. All Students Proficient and Showing Growth in All Assessed Areas

2. Every Student Graduates from High School and is Ready for College and Career

3. Every Child Has Access to a High-Quality Early Childhood Program

4. Every School Has Effective Teachers and Leaders

5. Every Community Effectively Uses a World-Class Data System to Improve Student Outcomes

6. Every School and District is Rated “C” or Higher
During this session, participants will –

• use the MS CCRS for Social Studies to plan instruction.
• discuss how the Reading Information (RI) standards work in conjunction with the social studies standards.
• integrate the use of text sets to enhance instruction.
• identify best practices for blending the social studies and reading standards.
• plan an instructional unit to use in the classroom.
Session Norms

• Silence your cell phones.
• Do not hesitate to ask questions.
• Be willing to participate with your table group.

Key Points About Effective Planning & Instruction
Effective Planning and Instruction

- Anticipate areas of need based upon data from formative and summative assessments.
- Plan using the scaffolding document for the reading standards.
- Model and think-aloud in context.
  - Teacher model
  - Video of an expert model
  - Student model
- Allow time for consequence-free practice (individually or in partners or groups) while providing focused, immediate feedback. Think about your schedule and class time.
- Assign independent practice based upon what has been modeled and practiced.
CCRS Literacy in History Standards

• Overview of the CCRS scaffolding document (page 26)
• K-5 will focus on reading Informational text (page 29)
• 6-8 will focus on reading history/social studies (reading page 102, writing page 104)
• 9-10 will focus on reading history/social studies (reading page 126, writing page 128)
• 11-12 will focus on reading history/social studies (reading page 151, writing page 153)

A student should know (Prerequisite Knowledge):
- How to focus closely and critically on content in an informational text.
- How to form a thorough understanding or analysis of what they are reading and for selecting key evidence for use in writing or speaking.
- How to refer directly to details and examples in a text and/or quote accurately from a text when explaining what a text is about.
- How to refer directly to details and examples in a text and/or quote accurately from a text when drawing inferences from a text.
- What it means to draw inferences from a text.
- How to ask and answer questions to demonstrate understanding of a text.

A student should understand (Conceptual Understanding):
- An analysis is a close examination of the components or structure of a text.
- That authors purposefully include specific details and/or examples in informational texts and/or omit specific details and/or examples from informational texts to prompt students to ask and answer questions about the text.
- That some evidence presented in a text is stronger than other evidence presented.
- How to determine which piece of evidence from the text provides the strongest support for an analysis of the text.

A student should be able to do (Evidence of Knowledge):
- Closely read and analyze an informational text to comprehend what the author says explicitly and to discover the layers of meaning that are often embedded within complex informational texts.
- Conduct self-checks to ensure comprehension of an informational text, persevere through difficult sections, examine unfamiliar words or phrases and attempt to uncover the meaning of unknown words.
- Cite evidence from the text in the form of specific details or examples to support an analysis of what the text says explicitly.
- Cite evidence from the text in the form of specific details or examples to support an
The primary purpose of the 2016 Mississippi College- and Career-Readiness Standards Scaffolding Documents is to provide teachers with a deeper understanding of the Standards as they plan for classroom instruction. Based on the 2016 Mississippi College- and Career-Readiness Standards, these documents provide a close analysis of the requirements for student mastery. Because of the rigor and depth of the Standards, scaffolding instruction to meet the needs of all learners is essential to individual success. These documents will aid teachers' understanding of how to teach the Standards through a natural progression of student mastery.

2016 Mississippi CCRS for ELA

Literacy in History/Social Studies - Grades 9-10

The standards below begin at grade 6; standards for K–5 reading in history/social studies, science, and technical subjects are integrated into the K–5 Reading standards. The CCR anchor standards and high school standards in literacy work in tandem to define college and career readiness expectations—the former providing broad standards, the latter providing additional specificity.

Steps to Developing an Instructional Unit
Unit Development: Step 1

- Locate unit planning template, Handout 1. While you work, keep track of your ideas on the template.

- Determine what social studies standard you plan to use.
Sample - 3rd grade

Social Studies - CI.3.2
Demonstrate knowledge of community and local government.

Unit Development: Step 2

Analyze the Reading for Information standards to determine which additional standards naturally fit with the focus Social Studies standard. Scaffolding Document

- Helpful Hint: Look through the MAAP Blueprint and the SATP to see what reading standards are heavily tested.

1. Lessons are aligned to standards and represent a coherent sequence of learning

Lessons:

4. Include student learning outcomes and instructional activities that
   - are fully aligned to current Mississippi College and Career Ready Standards or Framework
   - are part of a coherent and focused sequence of learning with meaningful connections made to previous and future learning
   - reflect collaboration with other school staff within and across disciplines to enrich learning
Sample- 3rd grade

Social Studies-CI.3.2
Demonstrate knowledge of community and local government.

ELA-RI. 3.3
Describe the relationship between a series of historical events, scientific ideas or concepts, or steps in technical procedures in a text, using language that pertains to time, sequence, and cause and effect.

ELA-RI. 3.5
Use text features and search tools “e.g., key words, sidebars, hyperlinks” to locate information revealed to a given topic efficiently.

Choose an anchor text that will enable you to teach the focus standard.

• You start with an idea of an anchor/extended text and build your theme/topic and other texts around that text, or you may start with a theme/topic and build all of your texts around that theme/topic.

• It helps to create a goal in your mind. Think about what you want the students to accomplish.
What are Text Sets?

• Text sets are a collection of related texts organized around a topic or line of inquiry.
• Text sets are built around an anchor/extended text, which is a rich, complex grade-level text.
• The number of texts in a set can vary depending upon purpose and resource availability around a given topic.
• What is important is that the texts within the set are connected meaningfully to each other and deepen student understanding of the anchor text.
• You can include non-print items in the text set as well.
Text Sets

Strong Text Sets –

• build students’ knowledge and include a range of texts in diverse media formats and lengths with focused and purposeful connections.

• increase in text complexity within and across sets to support student achievement of the grade-level-complexity demands of the MS CCRS.

• contain accurate and authentic texts worthy of study.

Sample Elementary Text Set

- 1 Informational (anchor/extended text): Everyone Counts, Elissa Grodin

1-2 Short literature texts:
“A Courtroom in the Classroom” (Readworks)
“The Circus Comes to Town” (Readworks)

2-3 Informational texts:
“The Job of the President” (NEWSELA)
“Our System of Checks and Balances” (NEWSELA)
“The Powers of State and Local Government” (NEWSELA)

Questions to Ask about Text Sets

Use the following refining questions when creating text sets:
1. Will the text interest students or does it provide opportunities for building stamina and perseverance?
2. Is the text content age-appropriate?
3. Does the text offer multiple opportunities for students to meet the expectations of various MS CCRS?
4. Is the text authentic and high quality? Does it contain accurate and meaningful information and content?
5. Does the text represent or include diverse perspectives from different cultures?
6. Is the text available electronically in the library, or for purchasing?
Assessment: Step 4

• Assessment should evaluate students’ understanding of the objectives/essential questions.
With your partners, research and identify the different types of government throughout history, such as dictatorship, monarchy, aristocracy, representative democracy and direct democracy in America. Compare and contrast the way of life in one of those governments with government life today (H.3.1, RI.3.3, W.3.2a, W.3.2b, W.3.7, W.3.8). Choose three of the following topics to compare and contrast:

- Education
- Punishment for crimes
- Recreation (what people did for fun)
- Jobs

Compile this information in one of the product choices (on the next slide).
Sample Research Project

Product choices:
• Podcast
• Recorded News Show
• Visual Art/Representation (with an explanation supported by research)
• PowerPoint Presentation
• Letter/Email to a Friend
• Essay or response that is constructed by students using their knowledge combined with the support of several provided sources.
Extension Ideas to Show the Effectiveness of Research

Instead of creating a research paper that is separate from the culminating writing task, design the research project so that it enhances the culminating writing task. In other words, take the research they have done and combine it in their culminating writing task after they have drafted an essay with their text set texts.
Performance/Culminating Task

Students will conduct research on an unsung hero who made great contributions to the Civil Rights Movement. Through researching multiple sources, they will gather information about this person’s life. Students will then write a narrative poem about their chosen figure and present it to the class during a Poetry Out Loud Performance. Each poem must contain the following elements:

- At least 12 lines
- Follows a rhyme scheme specified by the student
- One example of figurative language

Standard(s) Assessed: RI.5.9, W.5.3, W.5.7, SL.5.4
Unit Development: Step 5

Vocabulary Instruction
Choosing Words to Teach

Tier III
Tier III words are low-frequency words and are limited to a specific "domain". They often pertain to a specific content area. These words are best learned within the context of the lesson or subject matter.
Examples: atom, molecule, metamorphic, sedimentary, continent

Tier II
Tier II words are high-frequency words that occur across contexts. These words are used by mature language users and are more common in writing than in everyday speech. Tier II words are important for students to know to enhance comprehension of a selected text. Tier II words are the best words for targeted explicit vocabulary instruction.
Examples: hilarious, endure, despise, arrange, compare, contrast

Tier I
Tier I words are the words we use everyday in our speech. These words are typically learned through conversation. These are common words that rarely require direct instruction.
Examples: come, see, happy, table

Source: Bringing Words To Life (Beck, McKeown, & Kucan 2002)
Unit Development:

Intentional Instruction
- exposure to words through direct, explicit instruction
- fewer words, deeper knowledge
- instruction in word learning strategies
- prioritized vocabulary instruction (emphasis on tier 2 words)

Incidental Learning
- indirect exposure to words
- most words learned this way
- independent use of word learning strategies
- exposure to all “tiers”
Example

1. Describe causes of the Spanish-American War, including yellow journalism, the sinking of the battleship USS Maine, and economic interest in Cuba.

2. Identify the role of the Rough Riders on the iconic status of President Theodore Roosevelt.
<table>
<thead>

<td>• Identify</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Role</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Iconic</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• President</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Tier 3
Choose vocabulary words based upon what your students would need.

- List essential vocabulary from the standard, objectives, and the text set.
- Create a T-Chart (shown on previous slide) in order to categorize vocabulary words as incidental or intentional.
Vocabulary

Academic/Incidental Vocabulary:
- Describe
- Economic
- Cuba
- Identify
- Role
- Iconic
- President

Direct Instruction/Intentional Vocabulary:
- Spanish American War
- USS Maine
- Yellow Journalism
- Rough Riders
With your partner, discuss any vocabulary strategies you use in the classroom.
Close Reading and Text-Dependent Questions

• Choose the most complex texts or parts of an anchor text through which to scaffold students with close reading strategies and text-dependent questions.

• You will model close reading strategies and how to answer text-dependent questions with a chosen text, but students will practice with the feedback and discussion of you and their peers and practice individually with new texts.

• Find the provided guide for how to create text-dependent questions.
Close Reading Example: Imperialism

• Conduct three reads of the text: independent read, expert read, and close read.

• During the close read, ask students questions aligned to the focus Reading standard and the additional standards.

Note: Vocabulary questions can ALWAYS be asked during a close read.

• As the text is read, ask students to look at individual paragraphs of the text to analyze what they mean and determine their significance to the development and meaning of the text.

Activity

As a group...

1. Using the imperialism article, create four text dependent questions.
2. Write your text dependent questions on chart paper and hang them around the room.
3. Participate in a carousel to provide feedback to each group.
Find another cross town companion and share your unit with them. Get their feedback and make notes to edit later.
Session Summary

• used the MS CCRS for Social Studies to plan instruction.
• discussed how the Reading Information (RI) and the Literacy in History/Social Studies standards work in conjunction with the social studies standards.
• Discussed how to integrate the use of text sets to enhance instruction.
• identified best practices for blending the social studies and reading standards.
• planned an instructional unit to use in the classroom.
