OFFICE OF EDUCATOR PREPARATION

- D. 2017 Onsite Process and Performance Reviews of the Teacher Education Preparation Programs as recommended by the Commission on Teacher and Administrator Education, Certification and Licensure and Development

Background Information: The Mississippi Department of Education's Annual Process and Performance Review of education programs are based on approved standards and criteria required for all educator preparation programs in Mississippi colleges and universities. The most current state review process, approved in 2013, consists of 10 process standards and two performance standards that each program must meet. Trained state examiners conduct peer reviews of the educator preparation programs and prepare a report of their findings based on the prescribed standards. Per Mississippi Code Ann. 37-3-2, the Commission on Teacher and Administrator Education, Certification and Licensure and Development reviews the state team findings and recommends to the State Board of Education each year the approval or disapproval of each educator preparation program in the state and assigns a status of "Approved," "Approved with Reservation" or "Non-Approved."

Mississippi has 15 institutions of higher learning that provide educator preparation programs that are subject to annual review and approval through the state's Process and Performance Review or state modified National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) accreditation onsite review. The attached reports are results from two mid-cycle onsite reviews and review of annual data submitted by all institutions, including admit/completer information and progress of meeting targets/areas for improvements as cited in the most recent state or national review.

Standard 2: Assessment

The unit requires that candidates are provided opportunities to demonstrate mastery in delivery of content and assessments as it relates to P-12 Student development needs; and the unit systematically assesses candidate and unit performance.

Unit

The unit maintains its assessment system through the use of information technologies appropriate to the size of the unit and institution to regularly and systematically collect, compile, aggregate, summarize, and analyze candidate performance, program quality, and unit operations in order to initiate changes in programs and unit operation.

Notes/Comments: The unit collects data; however, there is no documentation to show how it is used to make informed decisions about its programs. The review team recommends using an electronic assessment system to collect, compile, and aggregate, summarize, and analyze student data.

Institutional Response

The Division of Education has participated in an electronic presentation by Taskstream/TK20. We have recommended to Vice President of Academic Affairs to purchase their electronic assessment. We are ready to make the purchase upon the approval of the Vice President of Academic Affairs. This system will be used for collecting, compiling, aggregating, summarizing, and analyzing student data. We have contacted Taskstream/TK20 and have had a demonstration of their services. We have also received a quote form Taskstream of the cost of their services based on our needs.

A requisition for the purchase of this system has been submitted by the Division of Education and we expect it to be finalized within a few weeks.

SOLUTION OVERVIEW

Learning Achievement Tools (LAT)

The Learning Achievement Tools (LAT) facilitates the demonstration and assessment of teacher performance based on a portfolio model for engaging educators in reflective learning and authentic assessment. With LAT, institutions, programs and associations are able to collect evidence and reflections from teachers; evaluate submissions of artifacts using custom rubrics and forms; and assess teacher growth on established performance outcomes, standards and competencies. LAT's robust reporting components offer the ability to aggregate and analyze teacher performance data for program and institutional effectiveness needs, as well as for reporting to agencies and other external stakeholders. All digitally submitted teacher artifacts and evaluation data is available for association analysts to "drill down" and obtain a rich picture of teacher performance over time.

With LAT:

- Customize assignment and artifact requirements according to program or evaluation tool specifications to articulate and scaffold the assessment processes for teachers. Taskstream-Tk20s instructional design tools (whether used stand-alone or integrated with outcomes assessment implementation) further facilitate standards-based instruction.
- Engage teachers in the process of teacher assessment and evidence collection (e.g., lesson plans, writing initiatives, co-curricular experiences, video artifacts, reports).
- Assess teacher learning with a variety of evaluation methods, from rubrics and forms to points scoring, to a simple meets/does not meet or pass/fail requirement (or a combination of these methods). These evaluation methods are available for use in scoring/evaluating all types of requirements and artifacts including text/document submissions and all types of media files.
- Embed standards with rubric criterion to facilitate mapping and reporting of standards and outcomes to teacher performance.
- Develop targeted, individualized instruction and feedback using Web-based formative assessment tools to track and monitor teachers as they progress through a curricular sequence (including self and/or peer evaluation). Evaluators can also create and manage customized, online summative evaluations as part of the outcomes assessment process.

- Build and support e-portfolio initiatives (e.g., professional portfolios, program portfolios, student and faculty portfolios. E-portfolios give teachers ample opportunity to share knowledge, evidence improvement over time, and as a means for reflection.
- Present evidence for accreditation with online exhibit rooms with options for teacher and evaluator anonymity, access to teacher work.
- Generate real-time and longitudinal reports to analyze teacher performance data (e.g., aggregate and disaggregate performance data; drill down to artifacts; filter by demographics and other characteristics; compare results over time; and, export data directly to Excel for further statistical analysis).

Example supporting tools and services: Rubric Wizard (includes AAC&U VALUE Rubrics and ability to create rubric repositories); Form and Survey Builders, Standards Database (state, national, international sets); Pre-built edTPA™ templates for all subject areas; Field Experience and Clinical Practice Module; Webfolio Builder; real-time user-based dashboards, report filtering by demographics; Lesson and Unit Plan Building Tools; and on-going support and training for all users (e.g., students, faculty, administrators, staff).

Standard 3: Meaningful Field Experiences

The unit develops effective field experiences and assesses consistent expectations within educator preparation programs for candidate performance as it relates to knowledge, skills, and dispositions including classroom management; and the unit provides adequate and appropriate supervision of teacher candidates during all field placements.

Unit

The unit systematically ensures a range of diverse settings that reflect the reality of the P-12 classroom and represent areas in which the teacher candidate will be licensed.

Notes/Comments: The unit provides some opportunities for candidates to experience diverse settings; however, it is not systematic or consistent for every candidate. The team recommends partnering with other districts for field experiences so that each candidate experiences diversity (addresses specifically race/ethnicity and exceptionalities). Also, the unit should find ways to incorporate faculty diversity.

Institutional Response

Through field experiences, Rust College teacher candidates are able to experience diversity through completion of the course work in the following courses:

- EDE 331 Math for Elementary Teachers
- EDE 333 Social Science for Elementary Teachers
- EDE 334 Science for Elementary Teachers
- EDU 332 Methods of Middle School Classroom Instruction
- RDL 330 Early Literacy Instruction Part I
- RDL 332 Teaching Reading in Grades 3-8
- RDL 337 Developmental Approaches to Reading & Literacy
- EDU 330 Classroom Management
- EDS 430 Methods of Teaching in the Secondary School
- EDS 313 Teaching Strategies Practicum

Field experiences are done in the following schools that have diverse student populations:

- Marshall Academy
- Potts Camp
- Holy Family

Note: Attached is demographic information concerning these schools.

The Division of Education at Rust College is structured on a Module system which consists of 2 eight week sessions each semester. However, we have proposed a Professional Morning, each month to adhere to the Diversity and Exceptionalities mandated in Standard 3 from the Department of Education. We will collaborate with North Regional Center, in Oxford Mississippi, Marshall Academy, in Holly Springs, Mississippi, and Blue Mountain College, in Blue Mountain, Mississippi. These institutions will provide more diversity and exposure to different exceptionalities that will enhance the knowledge we will provide to our Teacher Candidates. As a result of these collaborations our students will have a better understanding of what to anticipate in their future classrooms.

COLLABORATION

NORTH MISSISSIPPI REGIONAL CENTER

The North Mississippi Regional Center is located in Oxford Mississippi. The Center is one of five comprehensive centers in Mississippi under the authority of the State Department of Mental Health. This facility operates twelve cottages with 280 clients. In the Division of Education our students are introduced to several classroom settings. It is for these reasons that the Division of Education is actively involved in increasing our student's exposure to diverse settings. These opportunities enhance their understanding of exceptionalities inside and outside of the classroom. The Center provides an excellent array of programs from pre-school to adult intervention. This exposure enables the teacher candidates to mirror the pedagogy with an actual classroom environment. This component has embellished the candidates understanding of a population they will ultimately serve. Therefore we will continue to broaden their understanding of exceptionalities with more of these activities.

It is our thought that this collaboration will better prepare our teacher candidates through more experiences of this nature. We feel the teacher candidates will be better prepared for student Internships and future teachers.

LIFE SKILLS

The Life Skills Education Program is designed to meet the needs of individuals with severe/profound intellectual and related developmental disabilities who possess limited care skills. Classes are offered in nine cottages, four of which serve exclusively students who are non-ambulatory. Teaching is conducted in small groups and by one-on-one instruction by the teacher or teacher aid. Staff members are encouraged to use technology as a teaching tool and to design materials that are formulated to foster decision making. Developmental education programs are individualized to include 12 major areas: self-feeding, bathing, dressing, grooming, personal hygiene, dental hygiene, communication, task attendance, daily living skills, motor skills (fine and gross motor), and sensory stimulation. Individuals participate in classes throughout the day. Additional activities include: cooking class, art; physical education; and computer. Additional classes are scheduled to provide learning experiences in recreational activities such as gross motor development and aquatics. In addition, individuals participate in the learning activities provided through the library, canteen, and music classes.

STOVALL SPECIAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

Individuals enrolled in the Stovall Special Education Program receive instruction in functional academics, daily living skills, communications, and pre-vocational skills. The traditional academics subject areas of functional reading, writing, language arts, mathematics, pre-vocational training, physical education, and library are designed to meet the individual's needs. Assembling, sorting, time on task, and work related behavior are some of the pre-vocational skills in which students receive instruction. Educational objectives in the Stovall Education Program ensure that students are afforded every opportunity to progress to a more integrated setting. The school is accredited through the Mississippi Department of Education (MDE), and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS).

HOPKINS WORKSHOP

Individuals who are attending the Hopkins Adult Workshop Program participate in activities that promote independence in vocational, daily living, functional academics, and community living. Work skill activities are providing activities that promote the ability to earn a competitive wage. A variety of activities might include prevocational, contract work from local industries and businesses, greenhouse production, community workshop programs, community work sites or arts and craft projects. Through an ongoing partnership, since 2001, the City of Oxford, NMRC, and the Oxford Recycling Center are preparing individuals to recycle, re-use, and reduce waste in their environment. Individuals participating in classroom and work activities practice and then have opportunities to apply those experiences in a variety of community settings.

CTS TEACHERS

Education staff in the Community Transition Services Department provide training in the areas of vocation, functional academics, daily living and community awareness. Daily instruction focuses on banking/budgeting, money management, meal preparation, job skills and community integration. Training in these areas enhances skills necessary for individuals to become active and contributing members of the communities in which they live and work. Independence in these areas is vital in ensuring that individuals are preparing to continue toward a more integrated setting.

SENIORS EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Seniors Education Program is designed to address the physical, social, and emotional needs of older adults with intellectual and related developmental disabilities. These include senior citizens, mature adults with significant medical concerns, and persons with Down Syndrome who may be experiencing some form of dementia. A daily program of activities is offered through a traditional and transitional seniors program. These programs provide opportunities in both the cottage setting and in one of two Seniors classrooms on campus. These activities are designed to be fun and stimulating, in a safe and comfortable social environment, where clients can have friends and continue to enjoy life. Seniors also have access to Fine Arts and Seniors recreation in the Macvaugh Building. Individuals are encouraged to enjoy special events throughout the year

Project RUN

Project RUN (Reaching Us Now) provides early intervention services to infants and children from birth to age three who are experiencing developmental delays (such as difficulty in achieving childhood milestones such as rolling over, crawling, walking, talking, self-feeding, dressing, etc.), who have diagnoses known to be associated with developmental delay (such as Down Syndrome, Autism, etc), or who have special needs (such as prematurity or medical complications) that may delay their development. Early intervention promotes development through family support and individualized therapeutic activities provided in a community-based setting. Additional information about Project RUN services is available here.

Dr. Turnage,

Good morning. I hope your summer has been a pleasant one. I know that you are a busy person so I won't take much of your time. I would like very much to place one of our teacher-interns (Rust College) in your district at Holly Springs Primary. If you are able to help in this I would be most appreciative. My teacher-intern (Mrs. Belinda Pegues) has a family and her husband is disabled. I am trying to place her close to home so that it will not be a financial burden. Thank you so much for your time and attention.

Kind regards,

James E. Herod

EDUCATION COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

PRA 230 CORE SEMINAR 3 SEM. HRS.
 This course is designed to diagnose student strengths and weaknesses in reading, mathematics, and writing (grammar and essay) and to plan individualized as well as group instruction to prepare students to pass the Praxis 1 exam, the Pre Professional Skills Test. The seminar presents paper and pencil as well as computer assisted instruction (CAI) in the above areas. Students are given an authentic pretest to discover their strengths and areas in which they are in need of instructions as well as post test to determine progress and to assign a letter grade. Students are expected to attend class daily and to avail themselves of the hours the lab is open for CAI.

EDU 230 FOUNDATIONS OF EDUCATION 3 SEM. HRS.
 This course is designed to present the social, cultural, political, and historical facts and philosophical ideas which have influenced the development of modern education. Emphasis is placed on education with special attention to the school as a social institution. The course includes an observation and reflection experience in an actual teaching classroom. In addition, there is a service learning component of at least 10 hours in the local educational community and/or schools.

EDT 323 EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY COMPETENCY 3 SEM. HRS.
 This is a laboratory, demonstration, and training course with an individualized, hands-on approach to the creation and use of educational technology and media. Students visit local schools to determine technology in use, to meet with the instructor to discuss concepts and application and to meet clearly stated performance competencies as specified on a mastery checklist. Students learn to incorporate technology into classroom teaching with the use of computers, the internet, scanners and multimedia presentations such as the electronic portfolio.

EDU 330 CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT 3 SEM. HRS.
 This course examines how teachers set up effective classroom management strategies and how they carry them out with equity and competence. It explores the theories of human behavior that underlie acting-out behaviors. It also looks at behaviors that disrupt instruction and behaviors that can cause harm such as bullying, gang behaviors and violence to students and teachers. Several different theorists lead us to a wide variety of therapeutic measures that teachers can safely employ.

EDU 332 METHODS OF MIDDLE SCHOOL CLASSROOM INSTRUCTION 3 SEM.HRS.
 This course examines the many complex issues that middle school teachers are responsible for in the classroom. Teacher candidates consider some of the possible effects of their decisions and actions on the learning of pupils in the classroom. They will apply principles of learning and teaching by developing lesson plans and integrated curriculum units. Candidates will practice applying principles of learning and teaching by engaging in a minimum of ten (10) hours of field experience. Students in this course are encouraged to think critically and effectively and to make informed decisions about teaching as a reflective and facilitating process, particularly as it relates to working with students in the middle grades. Prerequisite: Acceptance in the Teacher Education Program.

Standard 6: Recruitment, Retention and Partnerships
