

Mississippi Department of Education
Office of Compulsory School Attendance Enforcement and Dropout Prevention
Homeschool Report: 2018–2025

The Mississippi Department of Education's Office of Compulsory School Attendance Enforcement and Dropout Prevention provides School Attendance Officers (SAOs) who serve locally throughout all counties in the state.

Each School Attendance Officer is responsible for ensuring compliance with the state's Compulsory School Attendance Law (§37-13-91). As part of this responsibility, the SAO oversees the enrollment process for students who will be homeschooled during the school year. Parents or guardians who choose to homeschool their child must complete a Certificate of Enrollment, which is provided through their local Office of Compulsory School Attendance Enforcement.

Homeschooling families self-report their enrollment information on this certificate. The data collected from these reports is compiled by School Attendance Officers at the district level and submitted to Regional Supervisors. All information is used solely to ensure that families are in compliance with Mississippi's Compulsory School Attendance Law (§37-13-91).
